

NatWest

Private BANKING

EXCLUSIVE TO NATWEST PRIVATE BANKING CUSTOMERS

Interview
Jade Jagger

THE KENNEDY MAGIC

By ROBERT DALLEK

The best spas
in the world

Featuring

VANESSA PARADIS
AC GRAYLING
ZOE WILLIAMS
GEORDIE GREIG
RACHEL JOHNSON

Caine

Marking 60 years on screen,
a fresh perspective

By Dylan Jones

This autumn it's all about black and deep reds – with a splash of grey, says fashion writer Lynnette Peck Bateman

Fashion and beauty are going over to the dark side for autumn/winter with black and shades of deep red making a come-back.

Yes, we are back to black in the world of fashion – again – and you could arguably say, 'black is the new black'. Of course the very wearable 'camel' shade is still a huge fashion colour story and has moved from taupe summer shift dresses to molten-toffee coloured winter capes, as seen at Celine, but dark-dark is more daring. One clothing brand are calling their new season pieces 'Dark Nouveaux' and a new beauty range for autumn is called 'Black Velvet Collection'.

But there is a touch of colour there too, with red making a bold appearance. Think red and burgundy lipsticks from the 'Vintage Christmas' collection at Givenchy, silk and cashmere scarlet scarves at Liberty and red and black frocks at Prada and you have a modern take on 1940s style. This is all about nostalgia and a harking back to a time that is now perceived as more rose-tinted than ours. This summer there was a vintage festival for the first time called Vintage at Goodwood and popular singers such as Katy Perry and Christina Aguilera dressed in vintage-style. If a neutral palette is more your style then grey is all a go, too, and if you mix a grey silk evening dress from Suzannah with some grey pearls, a slash of red lipstick and throw on a black cape, you too can be the season's fashion goddess.

GOLD PLATED
HAMMERED BIRD CUFF
Wendy Monk | £120 |
LIBERTY.CO.UK

For her

BROWN DIAMOND & BLACK
KASHI PEARL EARRINGS |
CELIA WEINSTOCK | £19,035 |
LIVEMINDJEWELLERY.COM

RED PAISLEY EMBROIDERED
CASHMERE SHAWL | KRISTALL
BY MS DESIGN | £490 |
KRISTALLDESIGNS.COM

VINTAGE CHRISTMAS
COLLECTION | GIVENCHY
FROM £12.50 |
GIVENCHY.COM

'VANESSA' BLACK
SHOES | GWENDOLYN
CARRIE | £415 |
GWENDOLYN-CARRIE.COM

ONE-SHOULDER
BALLOON HEM DRESS
IN SLATE | SUZANNAH |
£425 | SUZANNAH.COM

48 | PRIVATE BANKING | AUTUMN 2010

CONTENTS 2

67

Red, black and grey:
the season's colours
in Emporium

ASSET

MARKET OUTLOOK | Page 54

Low growth. The new paradigm?
Carl Astorri reflects on the challenges and opportunities for investors and assesses the new economic climate.

INVESTMENTS | Page 56

Making the best of taxing times
Chris Wiksyk offers some thoughts on how high earners and savvy savers can maximise their financial opportunities.

ECONOMICS | Page 58

Time to 'rebalance' UK plc
Robert Gardner considers the need for a shift in Britain's industrial structure.

REGULARS

ARENA | Page 11

Culture, dining, world affairs, sport – plus
Hilary Alexander with her cultural selection.

INSIGHT | Page 19

Comment by Rachel Johnson of The Lady and Zoe Williams of The Guardian.

EMPORIUM | Page 47

Six pages of shopping bring luxury to life.
With retail intelligence from Lynnette Peck
Bateman, and Mamsel Fletcher of Esquire.

FAMOUS FIVE | Page 98

Vanessa Paradis – film star, model, mother –
on the five luxuries she values most.

78

The Utah treatment:
Private Banking
reviews four of the
best spas in the world

92

Bespoke life:
handmade motoring
with Bristol Cars

